Celeb chef Art Smith and Joe Germanotta (AKA Lady Gaga's dad) are opening this new

This clubby West Village restaurant is co-owned by ABC legal analyst/author Dan Abrams and David Zinczenko, the editor-in-chief of Men's Health magazine and author of the wildly popular Eat This, Not That. books. In a Times article about their "bromance," rival restaurateur Graydon Carter supplied this awesome quote: "Every time I see them and they seem to travel everywhere together I can't help but think of those two brothers from A Night at the Roxbury." (Photo: Suzanne DeChillo/NYT).

In Gaga's Thanksgiving special, she told Katie Couric: "My dad and I opened up a restaurant together and it's called Joanne. Watching my dad put up the awning in front of 68th Street two blocks from where I grew up in a beautiful brownstone where they make Italian food, and to watch him open the restaurant of his dreams and have it called Joanne after his sister, that's wealth. That's the dream." (Photo). Read more on Maps New York

Most of the entrees on the dinner menu at Shea Gallante's well-reviewed Italian restaurant are around $34, but at lunch, they serve a three-course "market menu" for only $20.11. To start, you can choose a salad, soup, or casserole, then a pasta, sandwich, or vegetable entree, plus panna cotta or ice cream for dessert. The homemade pastas are the specialty here, and right now the market menu includes a ravioli filled with stracchino, parmigiano, and burrata, bathed in a rosemary-brown butter sauce.

In May, Ssam Bar introduced a duck-centric midday lunch menu that's really something special. Highlights include duck dumpling soup, rotisserie duck over rice, dirty duck rice, and a duck sandwich. Although there's no prix fixe, most of the dishes are priced in the low to mid teens, and there are a number of excellent vegetable sides and small plates (including a $6 duck bun) to choose from. You can order one of the lunch plates and a small plate or two for under $30. Read more on Maps New York

The Maps are interesting and appear out of context because other districts were not drawn. This is a major drawback in the community redistricting effort as interest groups draw their ideal districts in isolation. In the South, that isolation has led to the near-permanent casting of the Democratic Party as a predominantly black minority party in state houses across Dixie.

Hi, I have an interest in efficient green transportation and would like to share an idea with google. The idea focuses on how communities of taxi users can share rides. Great for environment, road congestion, and true social interaction. Its like taxicab meets facebook with a special environmental twist. I will save the best bit for later. whose job is it at google to review this kind of idea.

If so, what were they. And were they annoying enough to stop you from using the product. * If you don't use

Exactly the size of a credit card, they can be carried loose in a pocket, in a wallet, or in a MetroCard holder. Each map is printed on a plastic stock which is paper-thin but incredibly durable (similar to a MetroCard). These Maps do not fold out; the Maps are printed on the front and back of the cards.
